COMMUNITY CONNECTIONS

MEETS VIRTUALLY
2ND & 4TH FRIDAYS OF EVERY MONTH
4PM - 5PM PDT

Co-hosted by Angela Gee, LMFT & Robyn Park, LMFT

In light of COVID-19 and the social distancing that comes with it, we need to work creatively and collaboratively to maintain, strengthen and build new community connections. We hope that we can use this online safe space as an echo chamber or sounding board and it can be a source of inspiration as we navigate the challenging times ahead of us. Wherever you are in your journey, join us as we share in a safe space to connect!

Possible Topics for Discussion:

- The intersections of adoption, race & COVID-19
- Vulnerability & Resilience- economic impact, mental health issues & more

Adoptees of Color (AoC)

There are multiple intersectional identities that we are likely being faced with from the outside world! In addition to the very real health crisis that is rapidly peaking, many AoC are also suffering from racism and other forms of marginalization, including food and housing insecurities that the Covid-19 virus has created.

With You For You

Angela Gee, LMFT & Robyn Park, LMFT are AoC whose specializations in working with members of the adoption community often focuses on helping adoptees develop a greater understanding of this integral aspect of one's identity. Together they provide adoptee identity workshops, trainings for the adoption constellation and present at conferences both locally in Los Angeles and nationally throughout the U.S.

Virtual Reality

In light of COVID-19 and the social distancing that comes with it, we need to work creatively and collaboratively to maintain, strengthen and build new community connection. We hope we can use this online safe space as an echo chamber or sounding board and it can be a source of inspiration as we navigate the challenging times ahead of us. Join us as we share in a safe space to support one another.
